T² PROGRAM

Recognizes ROADS Scholars

THE ARKANSAS TECHNOLOGY TRANSFER (T²) PROGRAM RECOGNIZED ITS FIRST ROADS SCHOLAR GRADUATES DURING A LUNCHEON AT THE ASSOCIATION OF ARKANSAS COUNTIES FALL CONFERENCE ON SEPTEMBER 30TH. The luncheon was held at the Wyndham Riverfront Hotel in North Little Rock.

Seventeen graduates were recognized at the luncheon and each individual received a ROADS Scholar certificate presented by Laura D. Carter, the T² Program Manager at the AHTD, and Dr. Stacy Williams, Director for the Center for Training Transportation Professionals (CTTP) at the University of Arkansas. There was a total of 33 ROADS Scholar graduates for 2015.

The graduates were from Bryant, Jacksonville, Malvern, North Little Rock, Pine Bluff, Jefferson County and Saline County.

To obtain the ROADS Scholar certificate, each graduating participant completed a minimum of 24 hours of total coursework during a four year period. Hours were completed in both the Safety and Maintenance & Infrastructure categories, with a minimum of 10 hours in the Maintenance & Infrastructure category.

The ROADS Scholar Program is designed to be an opportunity that encourages the continuation and expansion of education in the transportation industry. This program is specifically intended to provide a mechanism for professional development and recognition for personal growth, while delivering valuable information and technology to local agency personnel responsible for the construction and maintenance of roads and streets. Through a diverse selection of classes offered, each participant can choose to advance in both familiar and unfamiliar subjects relating to safety, maintenance and infrastructure.

More than 5,000 database entries for classes have been entered into the ROADS Scholar database, which was created and is maintained by CTPP. Dr. Stacy Williams manages this database for the T² Program.

For more information visit www.cttp.org/t2 or contact Laura D. Carter at (501) 569-2380. ♦
